DOWN INTO THE DEEP.

Steamer Wrecked at the Golden Gate
By an Invisible Rock.

DISASTROUS ENDING OF LONG VOYAGE

Consul Wildman and Family Believed To Be Among the Missing—Wild
Scramble For the Boats
When the Ship Struck.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—The City of Rio de Janeiro, Captain Ward, from the Orient and Honolulu, struck on a rock just outside the Golden Gate, and sank in 20 minutes. A large number of people drowned.

The steamer had been lying off the Heads all night, an unusually heavy fog preventing her entering the harbor. At 5 a. m. she weighed anchor and headed for the city in charge of Pilot Frank Jordan. Shortly afterwards the vessel struck a hidden rock and Pilot Jordan shouted for all on board to take to the boats. The wild confusion prevailed, passengers and crew alike scrambled for boats, and in their endeavor to escape from the rapidly sinking vessel many jumped overboard. The loss of life is variously estimated from 50 to 150.

Captain Ward ordered several of the boats alongside and the women of the cabin and some of the men passengers were placed in them. The boats were manned by part of the crew and headed citywards. So far as known but three of the ship's boats left the vessel. On board the Rio were 29 cabin passengers, 150 in the steerage and a crew of 140. As soon as word reached this city tugs and other small boats put out for the wreck and rescued many.

Pilot Captain Jordan was taken on board Thursday afternoon inside the Farallones. The ship lay to until 4:30 a. m., when the weather cleared somewhat. The steamer then started under half steam toward Point Benito. She held to her course until 5:20, when she struck a rock. There was a terrific jar. The steamer kept an even keel 15 minutes, when she suddenly plunged downward bow first. Pilot Captain Jordan was plucked up by one of the boats. He is severely injured and had to be removed to the hospital.

The purser, John Rooney, is missing and all his papers, it is believed, went down with the vessel. Unless he is found alive or his pouch is recovered it will be impossible to fully determine the total loss of life until the agents of the company in the Orient and Honolulu can be communicated with. Among the passengers was William Casper of Toledo, O., rescued.

Consul Wildman Missing.

It is almost positive that Consul Wildman, his wife and two children are among the number lost. Nothing has been seen of the Wildman family since the vessel struck the rock.

There are several conflicting stories concerning the fate of Captain Ward. The steward of the City of Rio says he stood beside the captain when the vessel went down. Two other survivors say they also saw the captain but Frederick Lindstrom, quartermaster of the Rio, emphatically declared that Captain Ward emulated Admiral Tryon of the British ship Victoria, by going down in his cabin where he met his doom behind a locked door. It is certain that Captain Ward was drowned. From stories told by survivors of the calamity, all of which conflict more or less in detail, it is safe to presume that Pilot Jordan is the only living person qualified to tell exactly how the catastrophe happened and who is responsible for it. The pilot's story is to the effect that after the ship had entered the Heads and the fog enveloped her, he notified the captain that it was unsafe to proceed, but the latter ordered him to go ahead and the order was obeyed. And therefore in the pilot confesses himself at fault, for, from the moment the ship was taken in hand by him his authority in all matters pertaining to her navigation was supreme and he was solely responsible for her safety and the lives of the people aboard her. There are conflicting statements as to the conduct of her officers and crew. Some say the officers and sailors were cool and conscientiously endeavored to get the boats and save as many passengers as possible, while others declare that as soon as the seriousness of the situation became apparent, there was an end to discipline among the seamen and that it was "every man for himself."

Quartermaster Lindstrom says the lead was carefully used while the ship was coming in and that the sounding taken a moment before she struck showed a depth of water more than sufficient to float a vessel of double her drawing capacity. Fog signals were constantly sounded and every possible precaution was taken against accident. Lindstrom is at a loss to account for the ship getting so far away from the regular channel.

The wreck lies about three-fourths of a mile south of Fort Point, and about 1,000 yards off the rocky shore.

The bodies of four Chinese and two white women have washed ashore.

The steamer, City of Rio de Janeiro, sailed from Hongkong Jan. 22 for San Francisco via Yokohama, in command of Captain Ward. She belonged to the Pacific Mail Steamship company. She was an iron vessel built at Chester, Pa., in 1878 by Roach & Son. She was 344 feet long, 38 feet beam and 28.9 feet deep and registered 3,548 tons gross and 2,275 tons net.

BORDENTOWN HORROR.

Conductor of the Local Train Blamed
For the Disaster.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—The total number of dead in Pennsylvania railroad wreck at Russling's siding near Bordentown is known to be at least 11. There were eight bodies in the Trenton morgue and Coroner Bower brought three charred bodies to Trenton that had been taken from the wreck. One was that of a woman, burned beyond recognition. Among the dead persons identified are Engineer Earle of the "Nellie Bly" express; Baggage Master James Birmingham, of the local train; J. W. Nale of Trenton, passenger on the local; William Minney, laborer, of Florence, N. J., and another passenger named Stokes, of Bristol, Pa. Engineer Thompson of the local train is in a very precarious condition. Frank Bolden a passenger on the local train, who lost both legs, probably will die. Two others of the injured, both Italians, are in serious condition but all of the others are sure to recover. The total number injured is 43 of whom 25 are seriously hurt.

Fireman Garwood of the local train, who is at a hospital, is credited with having made the statement that the orders to Engineer Thompson of the local were to take the siding at Russlings and wait the passing of the second section of the "Nellie Bly." As it was the third section of the train which crashed into the local, there appears to have been a misunderstanding of orders.

Superintendent Abercrombie said, regarding the responsibility for the wreck, that Conductor Edward Sapp of the accommodation train, had instructions to wait on the siding until the three sections of the express train passed. Instead of doing this, he said, Sapp ran on to the main line after only two sections had gone by.

Conductor Sapp, who is badly injured, is at his home in Bordentown. He has made no statement and Superintendent Abercrombie says an explanation will not be demanded of him at present as the mental straits might prove fatal.

Caught on a Bridge.

Sharon, Pa., Feb. 22.—An Erie and Pittsburgh freight train ran into several men on their way to work. Five men were instantly killed. All were Italians, two of them: Zinccaro Roccia, Giuseppe Parrago, Cosgralo Sucea, Zinccaro Zappi and Pasquale Zappi. They were ground under the wheels and terribly mangled.

Suits Under Alien Labor Law.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—Eight suits have been instituted in the United States district court against the Union Iron Works by Edward Rosenberg, secretary of the labor council of San Francisco, asking the sum of $1,000 in each case and alleging that the Union Iron Works company brought eight coppersmiths to this country under contract, paying their expenses from their homes to San Francisco. Henry T. Scott, president of the company, denies that the company imported contract laborers.

Philippine Orthography.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The president has sent to the senate a report made by the geographic board upon the spelling and pronunciation of geographic names in the Philippine Islands. A list of 4,000 coast places is given. The board says the reason for the report is found in the great lack of uniformity in spelling some places having both Spanish and Malay and others Malay names, which attempts have been made to Anglicize. The board has retained the spelling found on Spanish charts.

Not Popular in Germany.

Berlin, Feb. 22.—Now that King Edward's coming to Germany is considered a certainty, several newspapers indulge in unfavorable comment in advance. The Deutschos Tages Zeitung says: "At the best it will be a private and court affair, not touching the German people." Other papers say the visit will be "a fresh insult to the Boers and Mr. Kruger."

Adieu Address Read In the Senate.
Appropriate Services by Daughters
Of the Revolution—Observance
Of Washington's Birthday.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Chaplain Millburn made an allusion to Washington in his prayer at the opening of the senate asking that young men of the country might be inspired by his example. In accordance with an order of the senate President pro tem Frye called Senator Bacon (Ga.) to the president's desk from which he read Washington's farewell address.

The senate then resumed consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. The senate then resumed consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill, the Rawlins amendment to strike out the appropriation for fast mail service from New York to New Orleans and from Kansas City to Newton, Kan., was rejected by a vote of 19 to 45. The bill was then passed and the senate took up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bills.

At Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—In accordance with a time-honored custom Washington's birthday was commemorated by the Union League club by two events at the Auditorium. To complete the day's program the club gave a banquet at the Auditorium at night. The Marquette club also gave a banquet during the evening at which appropriate speeches were made. Celebrations held during the day, or scheduled for the night by other clubs and organizations were numerous. Banks, railroad offices, the board of trade, the stock exchange and the majority of schools were closed. Addresses were made at the University of Chicago and the Northwestern university Evanston. The event of the day was the big afternoon meeting at the Auditorium at which Frederick Harrison, the famous English author and philosophical critic, was the chief speaker, his subject being "George Washington."

At University of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—The faculty and students of the University of Pennsylvania celebrated Washington's birthday in an elaborate manner. The students assembled on the campus and marched to the Academy of Music, where the exercises were held. Bishop Whitaker opened the exercises with prayer. Provost Harrison delivered a brief address. Those who were honored with degrees were: Rear Admiral Melville, doctor of science; Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, doctor of laws; President Henry C. Pritchett of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, doctor of laws; President William L. Trathen of the University of Texas, doctor of laws; Clement B. Penrose, doctor of laws; Rev. John Sparhawk Jones, pastor of Calvary church, doctor of sacred theology. Bishop Potter, orator of the day, delivered an address.

Daughters of the Revolution.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the senior senator from Indiana, was elected president general of the National Society of the American Revolution. A total of 584 votes were cast, Mrs. Fairbanks receiving 333; Mrs. Donald McLean of New York, 208; Mrs. Washington Roebling, of New Jersey, 42; Bishop Satterlee, Episcopal see of Washington, opened the meeting with prayer. In honor of Washington's birthday the bishop read the Declaration of Independence and Miss Caldwell of New York sang "The Sword of Bunker Hill." Among other officers chosen Mrs. Ellery A. Avery of Cleveland was elected editor of the American monthly magazine and Mrs. M. M. Granger of Ohio was selected for one of the vice presidents.

At Cleveland.

Cleveland, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was observed in this city by a general suspension of business and the closing of the public schools. Troop A, commanded by Captain F. E. Bunts, which will act as an escort to the president inauguration day, appeared in public for the first time mounted on jet black horses secured especially for the Washington trip.

Hanna Will Take a Hand.

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—United States Senator Hanna passed through this city en route to Dover. He intends to take a hand in the senatorial fight pending in Delaware. Senator Hanna's departure from Washington was hurried by the sensational bribery charges, and also by the fact that if the deadlock is allowed to remain unbroken the legislature will adjourn without a choice. He refused to discuss his visit.

VICTIM OF VENDETTA.

Prominent Italian Murdered on the Streets of Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—A murder believed to have been the result of a vendetta was committed near Grand and Milwaukee avenue. Salvatore Giovanni was found shot through the heart, with Carlo Battista, who recently arrived from New York, standing over him. Battista says he and the murdered man were warm friends and while on the way to Giovanni's home they were attacked by three men. Battista was not injured, but carried a revolver which had not been fired. In the dead man's coat pocket, however, was a revolver from which three shots had been fired. This mystifies the police since Giovanni's wound would have prevented him from restoring the weapon to a place of concealment. In his pockets also were many counterfeit coins. Giovanni, one of the most prominent Italians in Chicago, was a member of several secret societies and came here from New York three years ago. The police are of the belief that he was the victim of the dreaded Mafia and hold he was murdered with the weapon found on him. Battista is being held pending investigation. Giovanni and Battista were friends in Italy.

The police raided a house at 141 Milton avenue and arrested nine Italians, said to be sympathizers of the Chicago branch of the Mafia society. One of them, Joseph Morico, was suffering from a severe bullet wound in the mouth and he was taken to a hospital. The nine men were huddled in a small room, in which were found murderous dirks, stilettos and revolvers. It is believed the murder was prompted by revenge on account of some old feud. A deposition in the divorce case of Dr. Ralph Gundove against Mrs. Gundove of 700 South Fourth street, St. Louis, was found in Giovanni's pockets. Giovanni was acting agent for some attorney and this may have had something to do with the plot to end his life.

One of the prisoners says the members of the band belong to an organization known as the Sicilian society and that Morico is president of the organization.

In connection with the murder the saloon of Frank Morico at 57 Grand avenue, was raided later by the police and the proprietor and 10 inmates placed under arrest.

May Have Been the Victim.

St. Louis, Feb. 22.—Dominica Ginochio, Italian consul in St. Louis, and other prominent Italians of this city, believe Salvatore di Giovanni, who was murdered in Chicago, was Dr. Rafael Guidone, who until a few months ago lived in St. Louis. Those who knew Dr. Guidone here believe he was murdered by the relatives of his first wife from whom he obtained a divorce in St. Louis last June. When Dr. Guidone first appeared in St. Louis a year ago, he introduced himself as an Italian count. He left here last August and had not been heard of since then. When here he feared some enemy from whom he was constantly on guard.

Salary Too Small.

New York, Feb. 22.—William R. Rinnie, 26, who had been receiving a salary of $14 a week from the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association as clerk, forged a check for $5,950 and tried to collect it at the National Park bank. He was arrested, and said he wanted the money as he could not get along on $14 a week. Rinnie made out a check which should have been paid to the widow of a policy holder, but he made it payable to the policy holder's son, so he could collect it himself.

Sword For Fighting Bob.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The presentation of a beautiful sword to Captain Robley D. Evans of the navy was the occasion of a speech by Speaker Henderson of the house of representatives, paying a glowing tribute to "Fighting Bob" and to the American tar in general. The sword was presented by the people of Iowa in recognition of his command of the battleship Iowa during the battle of Santiago bay. Captain Evans made a graceful reply to the presentation.

Cleveland, Feb. 22.—Wu Ting Fang the Chinese minister arrived here from Washington and was met by Western Reserve university upon whose invitation the minister came to Cleveland. In the afternoon Mr. Wu addressed the students of the university, his subject being "Washington and Education." In the evening he attended the annual dinner of the Sons of the American Revolution and responded to a toast.

A NEW BUNCO SCHEME.

All g d Brokers Trying to Work It
Nabbed In New York.

JEWELE TOO SMOOTH FOR THEM.

They Offered "Gilt Edge" Security
For Big Purchase of Sparklers.
Mortgage Turned Out to Be
All Guilt and no Edge.

New York, Feb. 22.—Four men calling themselves brokers are under arrest here. They are John F. Cavanaugh of Pittsburg, Frederick H. Roeder, Oscar Itchenstadt and Leopold Oppenheimer of this city. The four men were arrested in the diamond office of William T. Rosenfeld, Malden Lane. Several days ago Oppenheimer called at the office with Roeder and Cavanaugh, saying his friends wanted to buy about $5,000 worth of diamond jewelry. They picked out that amount of gems and said they would call again and pay for them. They called again and told Rosenfeld they would leave as security a deed for property on West Sixty-second street which they said Cavanaugh owned. Rosenfeld notified the police, and detectives who were assigned to the case reported that Cavanaugh had no claim whatever to the property.

The four men called again at the Malden Lane office. They turned over a deed to Rosenfeld showing that Charles Chapman had deeded to Cavanaugh the property on West Sixty-second street. They were arrested and the police found on Cavanaugh a bond and mortgage certificate for $10,000 made out to Rosenfeld to be handed over to his keeping till the diamonds were paid for. The bond had a short affidavit attached to the effect that Cavanaugh owned the property. It had passed the register's office in due form and the notary's signature was all right.

The detectives say that the scheme in this kind of affair is to answer an advertisement in newspapers about property for sale. Those in the scheme see the owner or agent and deposit $50 or $100 for temporary possession of the deed so it may be shown, ostensibly to a lawyer, but in reality to those with whom the swindlers may be negotiating.

Bribery Investigation Ordered.

Dover, Del., Feb. 22.—The house of representatives, after a warm debate, decided to make a public investigation of the bribery charges made by Representative Walton M. Hearn, a Democrat, who said he had been offered $2,000 to absent himself from the joint caucus in order to reduce the vote so that the election of Mr. Addicks would be made possible. The Democrats secured the adoption of a motion to appoint an investigating committee and Speaker McCormick appointed Holcomb, (Dem.) and Moore and Baynard (Union Republicans) to make the investigation with instructions to report the result thereof Monday. The balloting showed practically no change. The seven Dupont men stood out against Addicks as heretofore. Two regular Republicans voted for Henry B. Thompson.

Double Charge of Bigamy.

Springfield, O., Feb. 22.—Leander Brooks filed an affidavit charging his brother, Madison Brooks, and wife with bigamy. In one affidavit Madison Brooks is alleged to have been married June 1, 1876, in Ross county, to Mary J. Pugh and again September 24, 1900, to Caroline Babcock in this city. Mrs. Caroline Brooks is charged with marrying William Hill June 1, 1876, in Clarke county, where she went under the name of Babcock and afterwards, September 24, 1900, was wedded to Madison Brooks. The prosecuting witness alleges that Brooks' former wife and his wife's former husband are alive. The defendants pleaded not guilty. They say the prosecution is spite work.

Talked Too Much.

Kansas City, Feb. 22.—Rhody Redmond, an Omaha saloon keeper whose place in that city is said to have been frequented by James Callahan before the latter was taken into custody for alleged complicity in the Cudahy kidnaping, was arrested here. Redmond is said to have talked knowingly of the kidnaping and to have bragged that he closed his place immediately after Callahan was arrested. Alex Ricketts of Argentine, Kan., a suburb of Kansas City, was arrested with Redmond, but no charge could be placed against him and was released.

FEMALE CLERKS AND JUDGES.

A woman judge and clerk served in each voting precinct in Kansas City at the primary election held there on Feb. 12th. This is the first time in the history of Kansas politics where women have been chosen to serve in these capacities by the political parties having the selection of the officers. Perhaps this is intended as a rebuke to Mr. Butler who has brought so much derision upon himself through his attempt to introduce a bill repealing municipal suffrage for women in Kansas.

The Topeka Journal very significantly says:

"In Topeka the influence of the women in the elections has always been the highest. They can be counted upon to stand for purity and honesty in the administration of public affairs. For this very reason they might be considered a dangerous factor in the political affairs of some cities—they might seriously interfere with the politicians and fivers,

RUSSELL SAGE

Predicts a Fall in Stocks, and Says Trusts Are Dangerous.

NEW YORK, February 16.—Russell Sage smiled a wan but wise smile when asked by a reporter whether a report to the effect that he was on the wrong side of the market and losing money was true.

"Money is too cheap," said Mr. Sage. "It is being loaned too freely and without proper regard to the stability of the collateral security offered.

"Things have got to change or else there will be a panic. The market has too much of a bullish aspect; stocks are sure to go down. Great combinations of capital, like the recently organized billion dollar steel trust, are not in themselves dangerous to the community unless they abuse their privileges; then legislation ought to and will sweep down upon them and break them up. This country now has more to sell than it has to buy. Time was when we bought more than we sold.

"There will be a squeeze in money. It is bound to come. We are now lending England and other foreign countries money at cheaper rates than they can borrow it over there."

DIED AT NINETY-EIGHT.

Mrs. Louisa Ballingal, Robertson County's Oldest Resident, Passes Away.

MT. OLIVER, KY., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Louisa Ballingal died at the advanced age of ninety-eight years. Mrs. Ballingal was born in Fairfax County, Virginia, in 1802. Her father, Joseph Fielder, moved to Kentucky when she was a girl. At one time her father lived on the George Washington estate, Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Ballingal was the mother of six children, five of whom survive her.

Her son, Mr. Neal Ballingal, is the leader of the Democratic party in this county. George Ballingal, a prominent lawyer of St. Louis, is also a son. Mrs. Ballingal retained all her faculties to within a year of her death, when her mind became blank, and she did not know her own family. She was loved and respected by every one, and highly connected. She was the oldest resident of the county.

THE TOBACCO FAIR.

It Was a Success, Notwithstanding the Unfavorable Weather.

A Fine Display and a Big Crowd—List of Successful Exhibitors—Addresses at Opera House.

The second annual tobacco fair on Friday proved a success, notwithstanding many unfavorable circumstances that tended to interfere with the display and cut down the attendance.

The weather was not at all propitious. With the temperature below freezing and heavy snow showers prevailing the proper handling of tobacco was out of the question. As a natural result the exhibit fell short of expectations as to quantity, but, considering all the unfavorable conditions to contend with, the display was a very liberal one, there being about 150 samples entered in the various classes. The exhibit was made at Neptune Hall, where excellent arrangements had been made for displaying the samples, not only of tobacco but also of wheat, corn and potatoes.

Following is a list of the successful exhibitors with amount of premiums in each class:

At the meeting at the court house in the forenoon, Spire Abner Hord presided. Addresses were made by Mr. L. W. Galbraith, Mr. Scott Osborne and others.

The Maysville Orchestra rendered some choice selections as a prelude to and interspersing the exercises at the opera house in the afternoon. The house was crowded. President Duley of the Board of Trade presided.

One of Maysville's ministers who was present said the crowd at the opera house was one of the finest representative bodies of men he had ever seen. This is indeed, a splendid tribute to the people of Mason and surrounding counties. Had the weather been at all favorable the fair would undoubtedly have brought one of the largest crowds ever seen in Maysville, and the display would also have surpassed anything of the kind ever made in the State.

At 1:15 p. m. Howard T. Cree of the Christian Church invoked divine blessings on the assemblage, the audience reverently standing during the invocation. Following this Mr. S. W. Coffman, of Cincinnati, rendered a vocal solo, in splendid voice, with orchestra accompaniment. He had to respond to the enthusiastic encore.

In his very cordial words of welcome the Hon. John P. McCartney, Fleming's gifted son, paid a splendid tribute to the farmers, "the bone and sinew of the land," and pointed out the advantages of having factories in their midst for the consumption of the raw product of their farms. He referred to the wonderful growth of the South's manufacturing enterprises of late years. She had realized her opportunities in this line, and now her great cotton crops are being converted into manufactured goods in her own mills instead of being shipped hundreds of miles to the factories of the North. He said it was time the people of Maysville and of all this section should awake to their opportunities. Maysville, the capital of the white burley district, should seize the opportunity of being the center of great tobacco manufacturing enterprises. Mr. McCartney is a graceful and forceful speaker and presented strong arguments along the line just mentioned.

"A Business Proposition" was the subject presented by Congressman-elect James N. Kehoe, in the speaker's usual forcible and pointed style. The close attention accorded him showed that his hearers were deeply interested. He told them that the vital question before them was not the winning of a few prizes, nor the passing of compliments, but how to secure a better price for their tobacco. They knew there was no profit in raising the crop at from 4 to 7 cents a pound, the prices now prevailing. He then pointed out the advantages of having a big independent factory here in Maysville, the heart of the white burley district. Every independent factory started put a new buyer in the field, and thus added to the competition for their crop. That such a factory here in Maysville, with the raw product right at its doors, with our splendid shipping facilities, with free city taxes for five years would pay, no one doubted. Independent factories elsewhere were making money, and all knew the trust factories were doing even better.

Mr. Kehoe then presented two propositions or plans suggested by the Board of Trade. The first was to raise a fund by subscription to be loaned to a company that would start a factory, for five years, without interest, the money then to be returned to original subscribers.

The other was for the citizens of Maysville and Mason County to organize a big stock company and start a plug factory themselves.

Blanks were distributed setting forth the first plan, and Mr. Kehoe asked those who were willing to subscribe to such a fund to fill out the blanks and mail them to the Board of Trade.

The BULLETIN will present Mr. McCartney's and Mr. Kehoe's speeches in full next Monday.

Mr. L. D. Weller, editor of the Cincinnati Tobacco Plant, spoke in advocacy of the open market. He said there was no question that the aim of the trusts was to crush out the middleman and get rid of competition wherever possible.

Hon. Sam H. Stone of Louisville, ex-State Auditor, also spoke briefly.

Following the addresses, Mr. Cassiday, a cryer of Cincinnati, sold the samples of tobacco, corn and wheat. Mr. Theodore Kirk of Cincinnati, secured the bright leaf at 25 cents a pound, Mr. B. F. Rankins of the Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Company the red leaf at 18½ cents and also the lugs at 19½ cents. Mr. John Downard, also of Cincinnati, the cigarette leaf at 28½ cents. Mr. O. H. P. Thomas bought the corn and wheat, the corn at $1 per bushel, and the wheat at 76 cents.

The names of the successful exhibitors were then announced by Mr. H. C. Curran, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Trade, and the premiums were paid by President Duley.

President Duley, in closing, thanked all for their presence and interest, and expressed a hope that Maysville's next annual tobacco fair would surpass all previous ones.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

One Proposed From Maysville to Mayslick, Sardis, Germantown, Brooksville and Mt. Olivet.

[Mt. Olivet Advance.]

The good people of Mt. Olivet and Robertson County are just now "all excitement" over the prospects of a railroad which is to be built through Robertson County to Mt. Olivet.

At the meeting of the Fiscal Court last Saturday, Y. Alexander, cashier of the Bracken County Bank and President of the Brooksville railroad, of Brooksville, and A. S. Rice, cashier of the Farmers' National Bank of Cynthiana, appeared before the court and asked that they be granted right of way over the Mt. Olivet and Sardis and the Mt. Olivet and Bridgeville turnpikes, for an electric railroad, which is to be built from Brooksville to Mt. Olivet by way of Germantown, and thence to Maysville, by way of Sardis and Mayslick. They also asked that the road be exempted from county taxes for a period of ten years. Both requests were granted by the Fiscal Court.

In a conversation with the above named gentlemen we learned that they represent Eastern capitalists who desire to build an electric road to the points named above, and that if they meet with the proper encouragement the road will be built in the near future. The company will not ask for a cent as a "promotion fund," but will make all surveys &c. at their own expense. When the time comes for building the people will be asked to take stock in the enterprise, payable when the road is completed.

Mrs. A. M. Baldwin, who has just celebrated her twenty-ninth year as postmistress at St. Albans, W. Va., was born on the Governor Desha farm near Shannon, Nov. 9, 1836. She removed with her father to Maysville, where her early childhood days were spent. She attended the public school and completed her education at the Rand and Richmond Seminary, where her cousin, Gen. U. S. Grant, also spent his last school days before going to West Point. In 1857 she married Myron Edward Baldwin, of Troy, N. Y. He died in St. Albans in 1864. Mrs. Baldwin is first cousin to the late President Grant, by whom she was appointed to her present position, on Feb. 11, 1872. Mrs. Baldwin has two maiden sisters, Misses Betie and Sue Grant, who reside with her in the old homestead, at the mouth of Coal river.

A Suicide's Advice to Young Men.

James H. Pugh, of Pittsburgh, Laurel county, Ky., committed suicide at the Hotel in Cincinnati by taking laudanum. He had been on a protracted spree. He left an affectionate letter to his wife. On another slip of paper was written the following sentence: "Young boys, beware of the first drink." A pathetic feature of the suicide was the finding of three small gold lockets and chains, a pair of baby shoes and a pair of baby's white gloves, which articles he had evidently purchased for his loved ones. His father, W. A. Pugh, is manager of a large coal company at Pittsburgh, Ky., and is a Virginian.

The ferryboat is now landing at the upper grade. Capt. Chas. Campbell says this is the first time she has been known to land there in the month of February since she has been built. We most generally have boat excursions here about this time of the year on a nice big river, but instead of a big river this time it is the opposite—very low.

Aberdeen will sport a two days' fair the coming season, as well as a new fair board. The new board is composed of the following gentlemen: W. A. Rist, J. P. Purdon, W. H. Clark, Lafe McGovney, Cal Kennedy, J. C. Martin and Andy Campbell. It is safe to predict that the fair will be a hummer, with such men as these at the management.

The Blue Lick Spring spring on Dr. A. N. Ellis' farm above town is sending forth a steady stream of this excellent laxative. It is pronounced by expert chemists to be superior to the celebrated Blue Lick of Kentucky. If you see anybody on the streets of Aberdeen now with a jug or bottle, it is safe to bet they have Blue Lick. People from all over this section are using it, as well as those from a distance. The spring and surroundings will undoubtedly prove a great summer resort in the future.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Items of Interest Contributed by Our Country Correspondents.

GERMANTOWN, Feb. 22nd.—Henry, youngest son of Leon and Mary Patterson, who died at Lexington, where he was attending college, was brought home and buried Thursday. He was sick only four days with scarlet fever. He had such a weak heart he could not combat with the dread disease. Henry was a young man worthy of alt grace given him. He was a member of the Y. M. C. A. of Lexington, and Elder Stoney, who was intimately associated with him, tells of the high esteem in which he was held in that city.

We need no better proof of his excellency than that we have through a letter of condolence written to his parents by the Principal of the college. Henry was a general favorite here among the young folks, always cheerful and ready to help in any good cause. He will be greatly missed by all, and especially in his home, having been the pet of the household. The fact that he was never strong and healthy made him dearer to his parents and brother. May God add his blessing of consolation to each heart bereaved, and make them to feel a strangely divine feeling, drawing them nearer to Him. The funeral exercises, which consisted of scripture lessons, songs and prayer and a few tender remarks, were conducted by Elder Stoney, pastor of the Christian Church. The pallbearers were Willie Cooper, Dan Owens, Willie Bell, Wood Wailingford, Burdett Walton and Ben Williams. His remains were laid to rest by the side of his sister in our cemetery.

ORANGEBURG, Feb. 22.—Robert Roe, of Cincinnati, has returned home after a visit to his mother, Mrs. Matthe Roe. W. H. Coryell is confined to his home with an attack of the grip. Hon. W. H. Cox and Geo. H. Owens came out last week to get the dimensions of the new church for the purpose of making a carpet for it. Thomas Beckett has moved on the farm of Mrs. Frank Browning. Thomas Dickson has purchased his father's homestead from David Haibill. Misses Ida and Fanny Roe entertained quite a number of their friends one night last week. Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Coryell and Mrs. C. H. Harrison were the pleasant guests of Prof. L. C. Grimes last Sunday. The people of Orangeburg think the Professor an accomplished gentleman as well as an excellent teacher.
